Edward Sylvio Charest

We, the class of 2010, dedicate this year's yearbook to Edward Sylvio Charest. Eddie was a free-spirited and energetic individual whose life will be missed by his family, friends, teachers, and everybody who knew him. Eddie will always be remembered as the student who would argue his point to anyone willing to listen. Whether the topic was current politics or the school lunch, Eddie was ready to voice his opinion. It follows that Eddie's favorite after school activity was Mock Trial, where Eddie enthusiastically contributed his ideas with other strong-minded classmates. Everyday was a new day for Eddie, a new chance to ace his Intro to Business test and become that much closer to becoming a lawyer. He loved to live in the moment. He never let an opportunity pass him by if it meant trying something new, and he was always open to new experiences.

In school, Eddie did well academically and always knew how to liven up even the slowest of classes. Outside of school, however, Eddie was actively involved in Boy Scouts and only just missed out on becoming an Eagle Scout. The number of friends and family who turned up to help clean and maintain Lynn Woods, Eddie's Eagle Scout project, was truly amazing. Besides participating in Boy Scouts, Eddie enjoyed doing what many other teenagers enjoy: playing video games or a pick-up game of street wiffle ball with anyone who would play. Whether it was his siblings, his friends, or some random people from down the street, Eddie would have a good time with whomever he hung out with. He was accepting of everyone around him and expected others to be the same.

Simply put, Eddie was a great friend. If somebody needed a ride, even if it was well past midnight, Eddie would be there. If you needed help studying, Eddie was there. If you couldn't get past the final level in your favorite video game, you could be sure that Eddie would be there.

Eddie will always be remembered as an exceptional brother, son, student, friend and valuable member of the RMHS class of 2010.

-written by Matthew Brown and Matthew Holmes

Michael J. Boyd

We also dedicate this yearbook to the memory of Michael Boyd, a member of the RMHS class of 1999 and a RMHS assistant football coach 2006-2009, who died this past July after a three year battle with lung cancer.

Coach Boyd was a beloved member of the Reading community. After leading the rockets to Super Bowl victories in 1996 and 1998, Michael went on to play football for Bentley College. He then returned to Reading to give back to his community and be a part of the football program he had grown to love.

He coached the class of 2010 from freshman year and moved up with the class each year.

Throughout his short tenure coaching the Rockets, he provided the class of 2010 with a mentor, a role model and, most importantly, a friend.

This past fall the 2009 Superbowl season was dedicated to him. Coach Boyd has certainly made a lasting impression on the class of 2010 as he inspired everyone he encountered with his courage, strength and "never give up" attitude. We are all grateful to have had the privilege of being a part of his life.

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must, but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about,
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up though the pace seems slow,
You may succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man,
Often the struggler has given up,
When he might have captured the victor's cup,
And he learned too late when the night slipped down,
How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far,
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit.

You Know You're a Senior When...

- *You say "Seen-yahs", instead of "seniors"
- *You have had your Bagel World taken away by at least one of the administrators
- *You have been caught texting on your phone
- *You have had social studies in the swamp
- *You were a hum-baby
- *You believe that a long line at Bagel World is a reasonable excuse for being late to school
- *Half your grade is out due to swine flu
- *Senioritis is an official excuse for not doing work
- *The freshmen are under 4 feet tall
- *All your teachers are now supplied with lock down backpacks, complete with a deck of cards and toilet paper
- *56 minutes seems like an eternity
- *You have always been the "experiments" for the town of Reading
- *You were the last class to walk through an airport terminal to get to class
- *You can finally get on Facebook in school
- *You know that Mrs. Shields has all the answers
- *You've been taught the right way to give a good handshake and how to politely greet your superiors
- *"Hoy es viernes...ole,ole,ole!!"
- *The bells remind you of Southwest airline commercials

Dear Class of 2010,

The Class of 2010 had many accomplishments during the years in academics, drama, music, extra-curricular activities and athletics. You have reached the high expectation levels that have been set by your teachers, advisors, coaches, and parents. In so many ways this class has brought honor and recognition to both Reading Memorial High School and to the entire Reading community. It has been my privilege to be in the role of superintendent of schools for such a fine group of young men and young women.

You are now ready to embark on the next leg of your journey, whether it is going to a college or university, attending a trade school, enlisting in the military, or entering the work force. As you travel along this path, allow me to share with you a Chinese proverb; "The Journey is the reward." I encourage you to make the best out of each of your experiences along your own personal journey.

On behalf of the Reading School Committee, the administration and staff of the Reading Public Schools, I congratulate you on completing your education here in Reading and wish you a healthy, happy and successful future.

To the Class of 2010,

It has been a sincere pleasure to join the Reading Memorial High School community this year. The Class of 2010 has so impressed me with your commitment, caring, and the range of your accomplishments, interests, and passions. I have so enjoyed learning about your talents and dreams and am honored to be sharing in this celebration of all you have accomplished.

I imagine over the course of the past four years you have encountered a range of experiences and emotions. Life does not always follow a plan. However you remember this journey, I hope you are able to say that RMHS supported you and helped you to grow. Wherever life now takes you, may you look back on your high school experience as a time you learned about your possibilities and took the chance to find out a bit more about who you are. As you go on to new adventures, don't forget to take time to enjoy each day for what it brings and to keep your goals and dreams in mind. Drive yourself to achieve, but allow yourself to enjoy the ride.

Although I have only had the privilege of serving as your principal for one short year, I am thrilled to join the administrators, teachers, coaches, counselors, and families who have helped to launch you. My sincere congratulations to all!

Dear Class of 2010,

Since you are about to leave Reading Memorial High School and embark on future endeavors, I would like to thank you for the great four years that you have had at the high school. You have excelled academically, extracurricularly, and athletically and certainly have left your mark in these areas.

As young men and women, you have comported yourselves with appropriateness, distinction, and class. Behaviorally, you have conducted yourselves maturely, respectfully, and responsibly. Socially, you have exhibited care, concern, and compassion for one another, significant involvement in school – related endeavors, and much spirit, enthusiasm, and camaraderie.

Having had the opportunity to converse with many graduates of Reading Memorial High School the past several years concerning their high school experience and whether they had been prepared properly for further schooling or other pursuits after their high school tenure, I am proud to relate that the general consensus was extremely positive as I am sure will be the case with you.

In closing, I would like to thank you for everything that you have provided and accomplished at Reading Memorial High School. It has been thoroughly enjoyable to share the last four years with you.

Respectfully,
Michael Scarpitto

Dear Class of 2010,

Congratulations on completion of a remarkable high school career. You will always be special to me, as you were the first graduating class with which I had the privilege to work. You welcomed me to your community and helped me to learn the traditions of the Reading Rockets.

This book is evidence of the great traditions, values and people that make up the Reading Memorial High School community. It reflects the greatness of the athletic, drama and music programs. It shows the compassion of volunteerism through clubs such as the Community Service club, Rachel's Challenge and Habitat for Humanity. The Halloween Dance, Pep Rally, Proms, and talent shows epitomize the people, fun and community of our school.

I wish you the best as you are graduated from the high school. I hope that you find much happiness and success as you go to work, to college or to travel. In closing, I would like to leave you with the quote from the front of the 2009-2010 student handbook:

Do not go where the path may lead; go instead where there is no path and leave a trail. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Good luck!

Best Wishes,

Mrs. Patricia Puglisi
Assistant Principal

Patrick Anthony Schettini, Jr.

Mr. Schettini dedicated almost his entire professional career to the students of Reading. He held the positions of math teacher, Director of Data Processing, RMHS Assistant Principal and, most recently, Superintendent of Reading Public Schools. His admiration for student accomplishment and performance was evident whether at a scholastic ceremony, a performing arts production, or an athletic event. Mr. Schettini strove to give every student the opportunity to achieve his or her potential.

Colleagues remember that Pat had the ability to teach anything effectively, and he taught students of all levels and abilities. He loved teaching math, but he was also proficient at teaching computer programming. Students admired Mr. Schettini and felt fortunate to be in his classes. All could see Pat's passion for education and his commitment to helping young people grow and learn.

Those who worked closely with Mr. Schettini describe him as a strategic thinker and a brilliant visionary who was both innovative and creative. He generously shared with the students of Reading his knowledge, his expertise, his skills, and his sense of humor. Pat's tireless energy was always centered on the students. The question he often asked was, "How can we better develop our present curriculum to better develop students as students and students as human beings?" Pat continuously requested that administrators and staff focus on answering that question.

We have lost a dear friend, but his legacy and his goal of creating Schools of Excellence moves forward, and we are grateful for his inspiration.

Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Noreen Scarpitto

With her caring demeanor and engaging sense of humor, Mrs. Scarpitto has the ability to bring a smile to the face of any student. Even if you have not had the pleasure of being in her class, she welcomes you into her classroom as if you are one of her own. Her students say that she makes difficult concepts easy and any topic entertaining.

Mrs. Scarpitto is an irreplaceable part of the RMHS community and that is why the Class of 2010 has chosen her as "Teacher of the Year!"

Retirees

Mrs. Susan Hennessy

Mrs. Hennessy has been an integral part of the foreign language department of RMHS for the past 21 years. Her kind and understanding personality combined with her interesting and thorough classes have inspired many students to continue their foreign language studies. Whether it was in French, Spanish, English or a combination of the three, a class or even just a friendly conversation with Mrs. Hennessy could brighten your day. Thanks to Mrs. Hennessy, RMHS has been fortunate enough to give students the experience of a lifetime through the French exchange program. Her enthusiasm inside and outside the classroom will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Hennessy, we truly appreciate all of your hard work and inspiration throughout your years here at RMHS. We would like to thank you for all you have done and especially for making every Friday that much better!

"¿Clase, que día es hoy?"

"Hoy es viernes, olé olé olé!"

We wish you all the best in the future!

Mrs. Claire Shea

Mrs. Shea has made a huge difference in the community of RMHS ever since she came aboard in 1978. Her early days consisted of mornings as the secretary for the FOCUS program and afternoons as the Assistant Principal's secretary. When the FOCUS program ended she became the full day secretary for both Assistant Principals. Over the years, Mrs. Shea has worked tremendously hard in coordinating MCAS testing, Christmas parties, retirement parties, Assistant Principals forums, and Academic Excellence luncheons. The class of 2010 recognizes Mrs. Shea as Mr. Scarpitto's secretary in the freshmen/sophomore office and now the main office. No matter where she is, she is always helpful and accessible to any student or faculty member and her presence will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Shea, we would like to thank you for all the time and effort you have put in to your years here at RMHS. We appreciate all the behind the scenes work you have done for our school, and wish you the best in the future!

Letter from the

To the Class of 2010,

Our first sacrifice as editors was spending two days of our summer at yearbook camp. One of the few classes that we actually attended led to the epiphany of our theme, "Life's A Puzzle". Unfortunately, the other people in our class did not appreciate our enthusiastic meeting of the minds. Little did we know, this was only the beginning of the hard work. Endless hours formatting, thinking of original page ideas, and finding unique things to make our yearbook special were also part of the deal. Countless meetings, staying at school past seven, and incessantly making lists while we should have been doing homework became second nature. In the end, shocking even to us, it was all worth it.

We chose the theme, "Life's A Puzzle", because, not only is it true, it would look great on a yearbook. The theme statement truly applies to the high school experience and life overall. Everything you do, every event you attend, and every decision you make impact your life in some way. Each is a piece of your puzzle. And high school will be a piece of your life. And this yearbook will solidify the pieces of your four years here forever, or until you ruin, lose, or destroy the yearbook that we worked so hard on...

THAT BETTER NOT HAPPEN.

Dear Mr. Kennedy and Mrs. LaCasse,

We would like to thank you for all you have done for the class of 2010 over the past four years. From the freshman progressive dinner through graduation, you always made everything run smoothly. Your dedication did not go unnoticed. We realize all the time and effort you have put into helping us fundraise and plan our class activities. Without your support, we would not have enjoyed high school half as much. Thanks for piecing our puzzle together; it would not be complete without you.

joining the Drama Club freshman year, where I was able to make an amazing group of friends who have always had my back. My family has also supported me with every step I've taken.
Throughout all the emotions, I will remember the moments from RMHS for the rest of my life time. Thanks everybody.

Looking back at the last four years, I realize that it's true what they always told us;
 "The time will just fly right by."
 Now that our time at Reading Memorial High School is at an end, I look at who I've had beside me the entire way; SS and LR, thank you for being my support and pushing me to be my best.

"A friend is someone who reaches for your hand, but touches your heart."
 And that's just what you did.

Meagan Beatty

"Let's just be fabulously where we are and who we are. You be you and I'll be me, today and today and today, and let's trust the future tomorrow. Let the stars keep track of us. Let us ride our own orbits and trust that they will meet."
 Thanks Mom and Dad for always supporting me, and Michael for always being there.

Being at RMHS has taught me to Live->Learn->Accept->Inspire! It's all about the random moments no matter how weird or embarrassing they are, the friendships made, and the good times in Drama Club and Colorguard. Where Dr. Suess can go on a journey dancing the Lambeth Walk with inanimate objects in the dark forests of Neverland. Thanks to my family and friends for inspiring me to become the person I am today. <3

I believe that everything happens for a reason.
People change so that you can learn to let go.
Things go wrong so that you appreciate them when they're right. You believe lies so you eventually learn to trust no one but yourself,

"Atticus was right. One time he said you never really know a man until you stand in his shoes and walk around in them. Just standing on the Radley porch was enough."

Thank you family and friends - Mom, Dad,
Nathan, Emily, Troop 1304. I love you all.

Nathan Tyrell

"The future is unwritten."
But the past has myriad authors; thanks to every one of them for shaping the verses of these four years.

"The question, O me! so sad, recurring
What good amid these,
O me, O life?
Answer.
That you are here that life exists and identity,
That the powerful play goes on, and you may contribute a verse."

Danielle Wager

Friends- so many good times and memories.
Thanks for always being there.

*Dance Team! We have come so far over the years.

Good work girls!

K, it wouldn't have been the same without you.
Thank you Mom, Dad, Elena, Jake and Ben,
for all of your love and support.

"Man cannot discover new oceans unless he has the courage to lose sight of the shore."

Great times doing cross country, winter, and spring track. Will never forget Europe Trip 2009, the countless new friends, or the adventures we have shared at RMHS. Thanks Dad, Mom, and Sarah--I could not have made it through high school without you.

Cody Wheaton

We are a special group. We found in one another a bond that only exists at RMHS. We have shared the good times and the bad. We have suffered together (RIP Eddie) but I am proud to have shared these years with each and every one of you. We deserve long and happy lives of peace. We few, We happy few, We Band of Brothers.

I love RMHS Drama! I could not have asked for a better group of friends, you're the best! Good luck Class X

Emily Wilson

"So don't be afraid to make mistakes, to stumble and fall, because most of the time the greatest rewards come from doing the things that scare you the most. Maybe you'll get everything you wish for. Maybe you'll get more than you ever could have imagined. Who knows where life will take you. The road is long and in the end, the journey is the destination."

Be Real Class of 2010. We did it!

History of RMHS

According to the Class of 2010

Good Morning. Today is Sunday, June 6th 2010, with Graduation on your schedule. Today will be your final day at RMHS. Let us begin by recounting the events that we experienced over the past four years.

Our freshman year began with the merging of Coolidge and Parker, and the struggle to survive the first weeks...music of all kinds playing in our new cafeteria...transition to the new building... and the new new building (old C)...lock down over a trumpet case...last class to use the old cafeteria library...foreign language in the old girl's gym...raised more money than any freshman class...Decisions...Echo Hall...fresh air between classes...innovative water conservation in the form of trash barrels in front of our lockers.

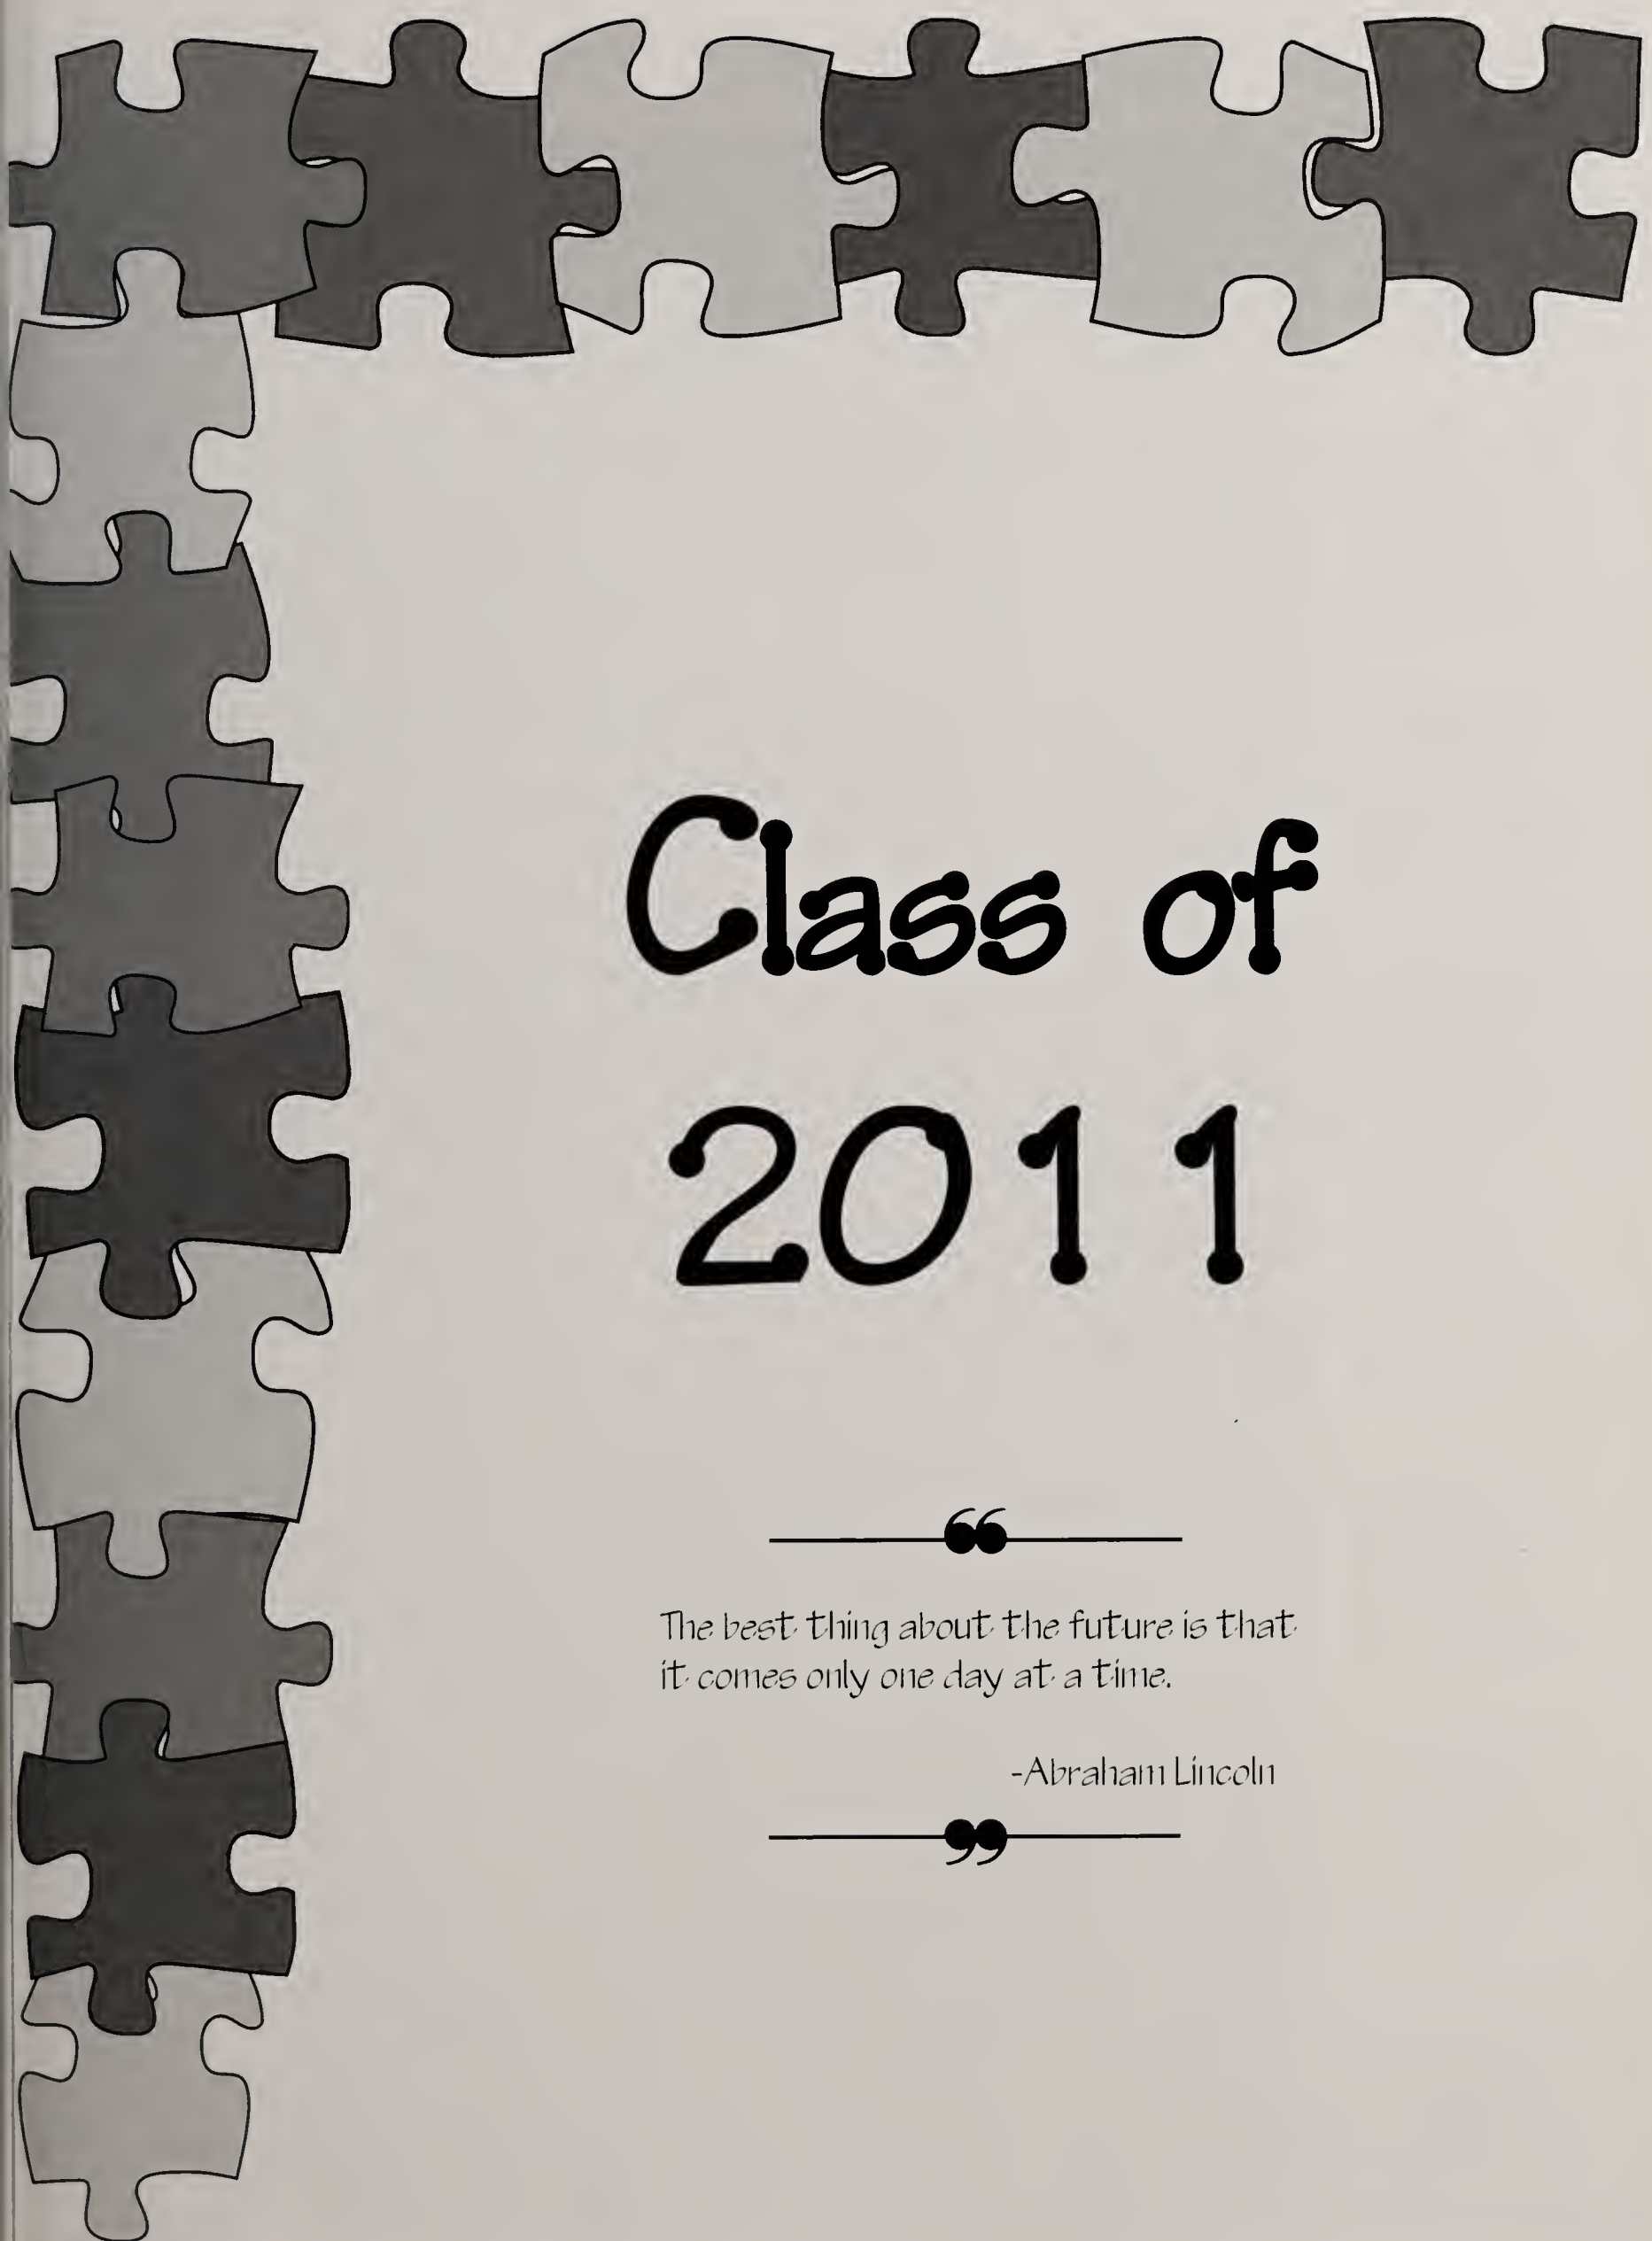

On to our sophomore year...officially in the new buildings...Red Sox win World Series (again)...semi in the café (mardi gras!)...Rachel's Challenge...National History Day...Writers strike, no TV...new dance rules...2 trips to the TD Garden...Super 8 Champs (We've got girls!)...Celtics Win World Championship...Snow, just kidding, Cold Day...career tests, miss English.

In our Junior Year, we were upperclassmen, finally!...SATs...college search...rumors of new schedule...teachers wear red i.d. lanyards...DELAYED OPENINGS replace half days... NAH2 chill...driving=freedom...Barack Obama enters White House, Bush leaves...H1N1 epidemic begins...gas prices go through the roof (right when we start driving of course!)...Twilight saga...the Laramie Project...school trips: Italy, Spain, Europe, Honduras, China...Junior prom at Danversport Yacht Club...goodbye to Mr. Hart and Mr. Finigan.

Finally our senior year, where did the time go?...they change everything... new administration...seven day schedule...breathalyzers...hallway passes (for real)...new main office...get rid of grade segregated "wellness" and assistant principals...athletic fees skyrocket...budget cut rumors...iPods in study, it's a privilege, not a right...electronic report cards (thanks, edline)...benchmark grades?...college application trauma...last chance for SATs...Senior Pep Rally, we swear it was legit...powderpuff football, it was legit...Superbowl Champs!...new decade...Buñ-Bye Nonno's, "Now serving Domino's Pizza"... "You Don't Know Me Until You Know Me"...madd earthquakes and should have had rain day; got water?...mission: don't take finals...awaiting our futures in our mailboxes (and inboxes: welcome to the 21st century)...high fives, finally people we know...Mr. RMHS...decisions by May 1st...30 day countdown (shhh we've been counting since freshman year)...Last day!...prom... Sen1Or Week...finally, Graduation!

Let us never forget; the library hassles, you better sign in...see through shades in the classrooms (for the windows that open oh so wide!)...Moe's bird noises...the swamp...free stuff at military tables during lunch...Social Studies is "Soc." Only in Reading...the lights in our lockers...Mr. Deeb's paddle...drastic temperature changes...leggings are not pants...water only in the field house and no balls on the walls..."sass"... the only way we were a typical Massachusetts high school was joining the Uggs craze and the Northface Fad.

As we move on to bigger and better things, let us never forget the friends and memories we have made within the walls of this high school. A part of RMHS will stay with us forever and surely in some way or another, we changed RMHS as well.

Placidina "Dina" Fico

It seems like only yesterday when the principal had to tear you away from me on your first day of Kindergarten.

Today, we could not tear you away from your Love of Learning as you have approached your education with such dedication, perseverance, strength, and open mind. Not only do we believe that you will follow your dreams, but that you will achieve them beyond expectations.

Words cannot express enough the joy that you have brought into our lives. As you venture out into furthering your education, may you continue doing so with the same love, grace, smile, laughter & kindness you have shown us all. Know how very proud we are of you as we honor you on your Graduation. " Congratulations !"

We Love You Always, Mom & Sarina

You have made us so proud., Michaela! We wish you much love and happiness as you begin your new journey.
In the words of Dr. Suess:
You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself any direction you choose.
You're on your own and you know what you know.
And YOU are the one who'll decide where to go.
Oh, the places you'll go, Michaela! Have fun!
We love you! Mom, Dad, & Emily xoxoxo

All of your life we've been proud and impressed with the effort you have put into doing your best at everything you do. So just remember wherever life takes you whatever dreams
you follow we will always be proud of you: keep your great smile and your great sense of humor. So stand tall, aim high and do great things!

Rachel Marolda

We've heard the cheers
amongst your peers
We've watched you conquer
all your fears You've kept that smile on your face
During this amazing four year race
We loved you then, and love
you now
Thanks for being the best daughter around

Through all of our ups and downs, there is one thing that has never changed.
The smile on your beautiful face. You are the most courageous person and we are a better family because you are a part of it.

Congratulations Baby Girl
Love,
Mom and Dad

Caroline Snell

You've always made us laugh!

Now, our little girl is all grown up and ready to take the world by storm. We could not be more proud!

Good luck at BU and in life.
Love, Mom, Dad, Kate & Tricia

Sharon Lauria

I hope the days come easy and the moments pass slow,

And each road leads you where you want to go,
And if you're faced with a choice, and you have to choose, I hope you choose the one that means the most to you.

And if one door opens to another door closed, I hope you keep on walkin' till you find the window, If it's cold outside, show the world the warmth of your smile,

But more than anything, My wish for you, is that this life becomes all that you want it to, Your dreams stay big, and your worries stay small,

You never need to carry more than you can hold,

And while you're out there getting where you're getting to,

I hope you know somebody loves you! It is a privilege being your parent.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2010!
